

Halong Bay, Vietnam

The bay from the docks of the city of Halong Bay.

Bridge connecting Halong Bay. Note the Ferris Wheel called The Sun Wheel.

Above: Cruising the bay sightseeing the amazing islands of mountains. Below: The walkway to the entrance of the Thein Chung Caves.

Joanne touring the cave.

Colored lights enhance the beauty of the cave.

Above: Tourists boats at the cave. Below: A floating fishing village where the fishermen live on houseboats while making a living fishing the bay.

The bay has 2000 islands. The bay is shallow and with the many islands blocking the wind the sea is totally calm the entire year around.

Panoramic of a small portion of the bay.

Above: A fishing boat. Below: A traffic jam of sightseeing boats

Above: Panoramic of a portion of Halong Bay. Below: We return to the cruise ship.

