

Sihanoukville, Cambodia

Above: The fishing docks near the city.

The Cambodian Lobster is one of the most desirable of all seafood.

Above: Some of the highways are lined with Sycamore trees. Below: The rice wet season has ended and the farmers have turned their animals loose to clean up the fields.

The Intra Ngean Pagoda near the center of the Sihanoukville.

Many of the temples have a population of monkeys. Below we are given a perfect pose.

The center of the city has a huge area for selling goods and even restaurants.

Above: A low cost hotel where you rent a hammock for the night. Below: The Sala flower is a tree flower.

The National Park near the city has waterfalls as well as rivers.

