

SIEM REAP

The airport at Siem Reap had 10 stations to check your Passport and Visa.

The city is centered in the temple region of Angkor. There are 37 Buddhist Pagoda sites surrounding the city.

The most famous temple is Angkor Wat.

Our favorite temple was Ta Prohm.

The city had dinner shows. For $12 you could have a buffet dinner and see traditional Cambodian dancing.

Near Seam Reap is the huge lake of Tonle Sap. It is so large you cannot see across it.

Kids in a tub a mile off shore want their photo taken for $1.

Sequence of photos with Mom pulling the young boy by the snake to get into a photo of the family. The snake recovers in the photo to the left for a family picture.

The Lotus Flower is exported.

A water well provided by a family in Pennsylvania.

Making fish paste in 90 degree heat with no refrigeration.

Above: One of the many Buddhist Temples in Siem Reap.

Below: A family receives the blessing from a Buddhist Monk.

