

CHURCHES OF ROME

Chiesu del Gesu built in 1580. Main altar below.

Side altars in The Chiesu del Gesu (The Church of the Holy Name of Jesus).

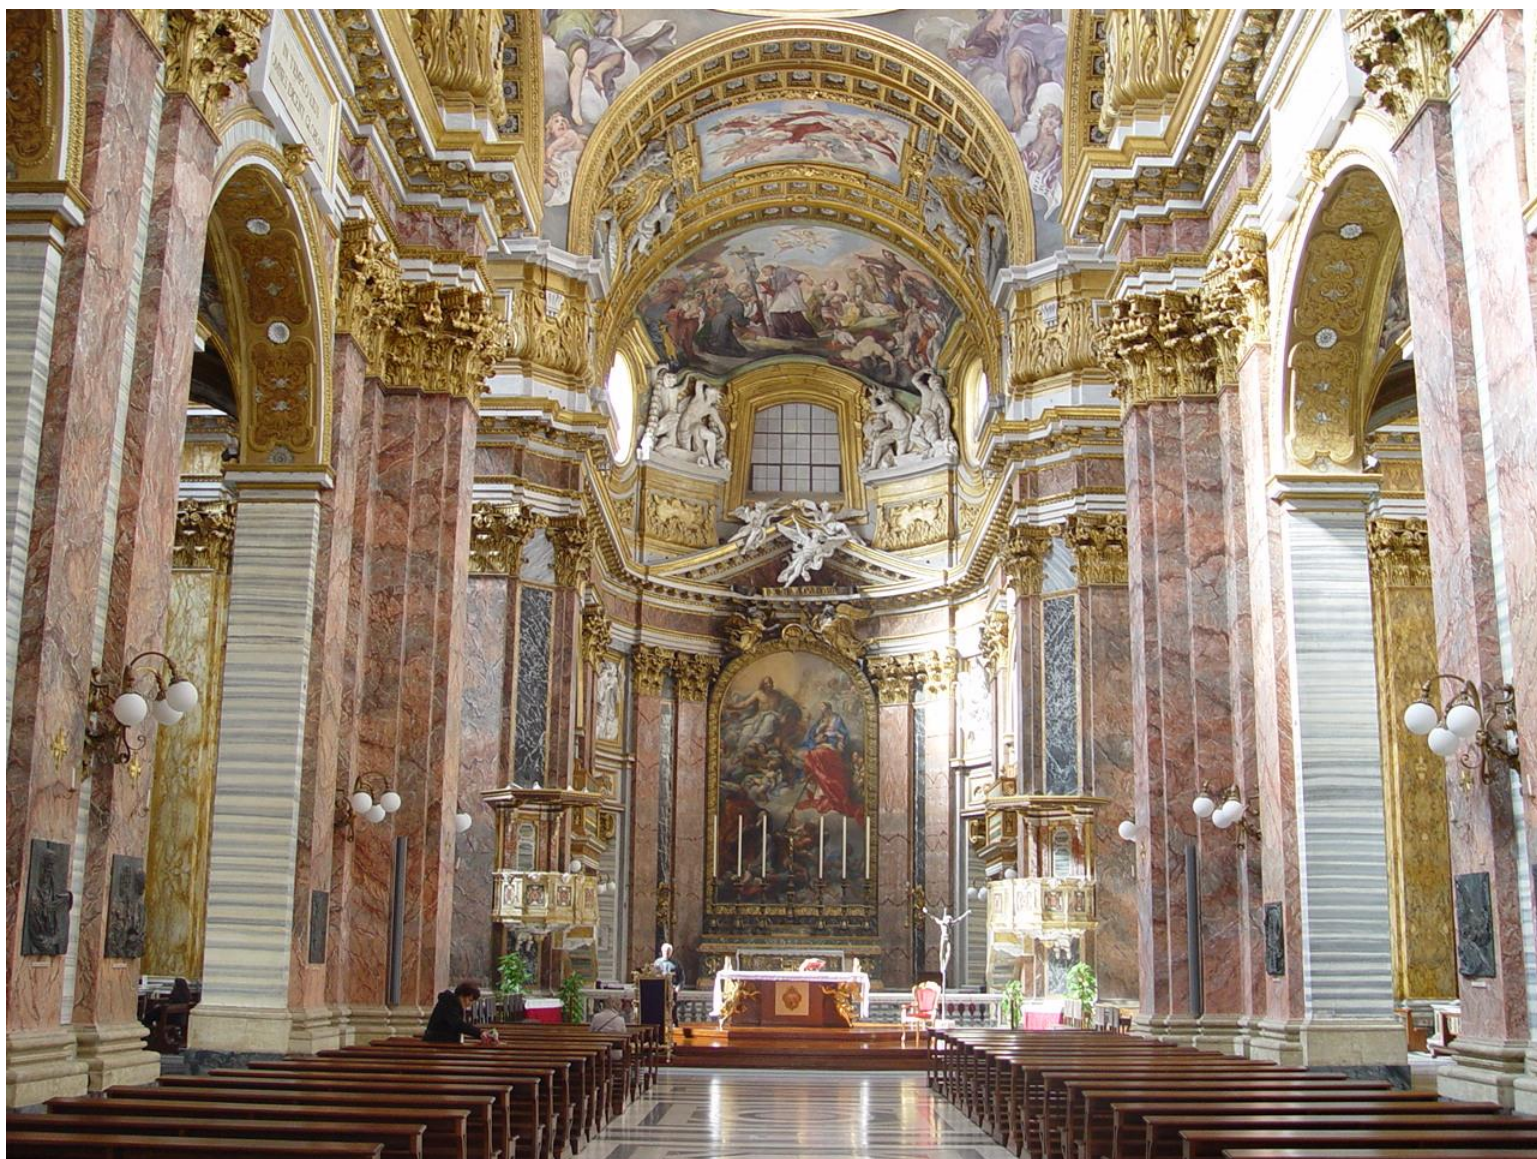

The main altar in The Cheisu del Gesu.

Basilica Sts. Ambrosio E Carlo built in 1612. Next two photos are of the main altar. This church is dedicated to two saints, Saint Ambrose of Milan and Saint Charles Borromeo.

Above: The ceiling of Sts. Ambrosio E Carlo. Below: One of the side altars.

St. Ignatius of Loyola built in 1650. Below is the main altar.

Above: The dome above the altar. Below: The ceiling in the center of the church.

One of the side altars of Saint Ignatious of Loyola Basilica.

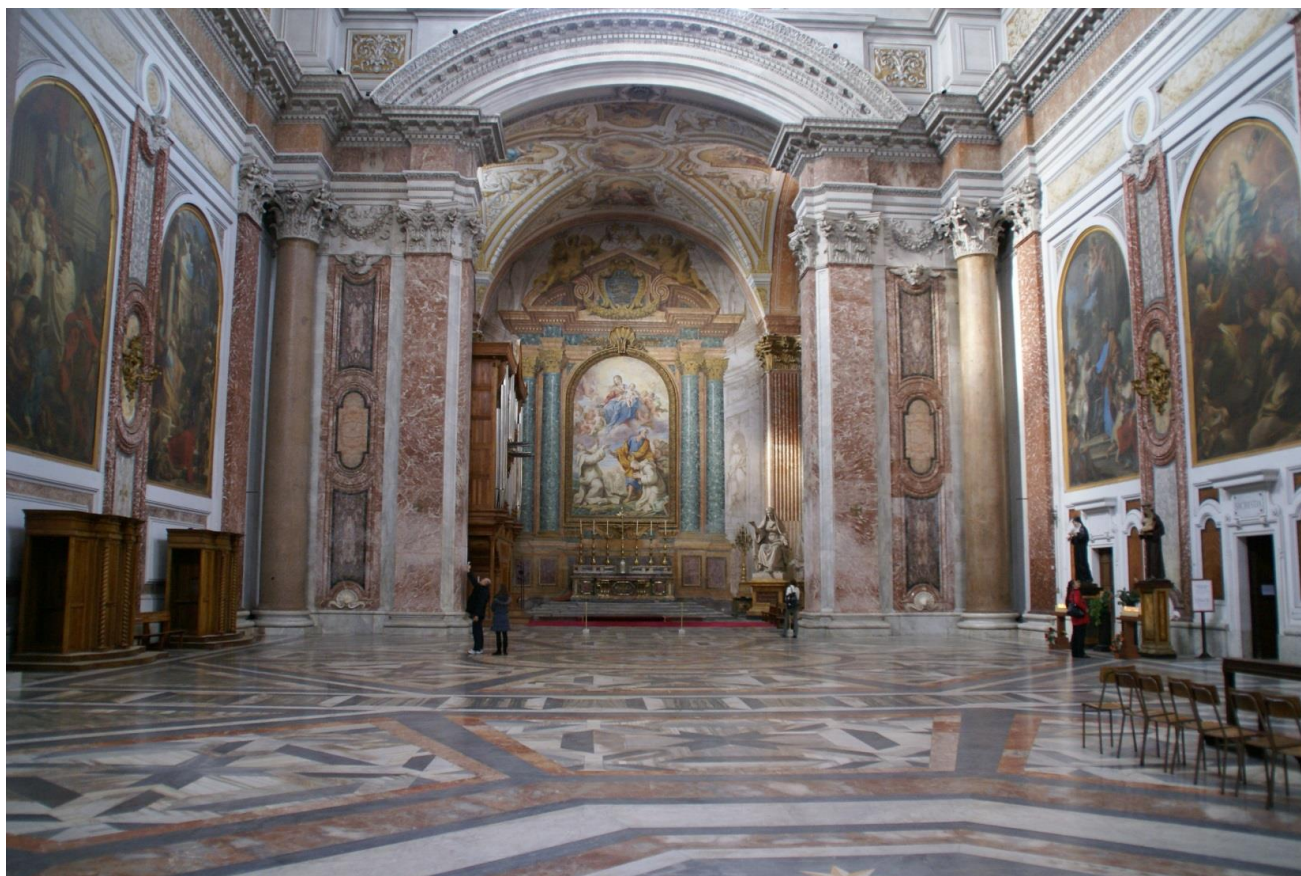

Basilica Santa Maria Degu Angeli E Dei Martini (Saint Mary of the Angels and Martyrs) built in 1562. Below: The main altar.

Above: The rear of the church. Below: A side altar.

Above: A ceiling over a side altar. Below: Another side altar in Saint Mary of the Angels and Martyrs Basilica.

